District 2 Director Leigh Russell brought the meeting to order at 10:45 a.m., after which all members introduced themselves in turn. It was noted that this was the most well-attended conference district meeting in recent memory.

With no minutes having been submitted or posted for review for the previous District 2 meeting held at Pitt CC in August 2019, Leigh moved on to the next order of business, the election of new district officers.

The current positions to be filled were announced, and a brief discussion of CCCLA's actual name and background ensued. It was explained as being an organization of CC library/LRC directors, originally created for the purpose of discussing and formulating system-wide policy. Thanks to Cathy Campbell's "archival" memory, the official name was determined to be "Council of Community College Library Administrators," thus explaining why the district member holding this position is required to be a library director.

Leigh then asked for nominations and/or volunteers for the District 2 open positions, all of which were in need of filling except for Director (into which role current Vice-Director Paula Hopper would be stepping) and CCCLA Representative (for which Rich Garafolo would be serving a second year of his current term).

The entire roster was quickly filled by volunteer offers, accepted by general acclamation, as follows:

Director: Paula Hopper
Vice-Director: Colleen Kehoe-Robinson
Secretary: Brittany Champion
CCLINC Representative: Sally Goodman
CCCLA Representative: Rich Garafolo

Leigh thanked all volunteers for stepping up, after which the question was asked as to where our next district meeting might be held. Colleen Kehoe-Robinson offered her library at James Sprunt; Leigh stated that she would work with Paula to help plan for this.

There being no further business to discuss, the meeting was adjourned at 11:05 a.m.
