District Director Colleen Kehoe-Robinson brought the meeting to order at 11:20 a.m., and asked for the previous meeting minutes, of July 27, 2021, to be brought up on the screen. After a brief review, the minutes were accepted as written.

Colleen then asked attending members what was new in their libraries, the general consensus being that we were all slowly working our way back to “normal” after our pandemic closings, and were experiencing staffing shortages that impacted our library services.

Following was a question on redistricting, in reference to a session given earlier in the conference on a proposal to begin exploring the feasibility of redrawing the NCCCLA district map, potentially to increase the number of districts so as to make travel between campuses less arduous (or possibly to eliminate districts altogether). Lively discussion among the District 2 membership ensued, with the prevailing sentiment being that we would hate to lose the connectedness we have already established within our current district makeup, and that further deliberation is needed before a decision can reasonably be reached.

Next on the agenda was the election of district officers for the positions of Vice-Director, Secretary, and CCCLA Representative. After rejection of the (half-joking) suggestion to draft some of those who were not in attendance, a slate of volunteers from among those present was accepted by general acclamation. New District 2 officers for 2022-23 are as follows:

Director: Angela Davis
Vice-Director: Michelle Milliken
Secretary: Leigh Russell
CCLINC: Stephanie Bowers
CCCLA: Elizabeth Baker

Incoming Director Angela Davis announced that she would be sending out a Doodle poll to the District 2 membership to work out the details for a virtual (Zoom) meeting, at which time we will discuss plans for a more traditional (in-person) meeting to follow.

There being no further business to discuss, the meeting was adjourned at 11:50 a.m.
